It's not the cold that gives you goosebumps

Warmly bundled in Arctic gear, you ride a swift dogsled across the silent, frozen lake.
Snow crunches, harnesses jingle. Town lights fade, and the night sky sharpens with stars. Then, as you gaze in amazement, eerie waves of colored light arch and swirl across the heavens.

Now you understand exactly why the Aurora Borealis is one of the greatest wonders of the natural world. In the Northwest Territories, you're directly under the auroral oval for the best possible viewing conditions. Breathtaking performances run from September to April, a possible 240 nights per year. Our tour companies go out of their way to maximize your Aurora experience. You can watch the show from the steamy comfort of an outdoor hot tub, or snuggled into specially designed viewing chairs. Camp out in a heated teepee or hop a floatplane to a fine wilderness lodge. Choose from a multitude of off-hours activities: tubing, skiing, skating, snowshoeing, trail-hiking, ice-fishing, interpretive stargazing – you decide.
