

WHAT WILL I SEE IF I DRIVE TO THE TOP OF THE WORLD?

Head up the Dempster Highway to the Arctic edge of Canada. Follow the highway from Dawson City, Yukon, through spectacular mountain scenery, across the Arctic Circle, into the Northwest Territories. You'll cross two mighty rivers, the Peel and the Mackenzie, and travel to Inuvik on the shore of the Mackenzie Delta, the tenth largest river delta in the world.

At Inuvik, people of various cultures live side by side: the Gwich'in of the mountain forests, the Inuvialuit of the Arctic coast. Inuvik is also home to the famous Great Northern Arts Festival held each July, and featuring a range of visual and performing arts.

- Take a tour of Inuvik located just south of the treeline.
- Tour the Delta by boat. • Travel by air to the mountains, to

Tuktoyaktuk to see pingos and the Arctic Ocean, to Paulatuk, gateway to Tuktut Nogait National Park, to Sachs Harbour for Arctic wildlife, to historic Aklavik, or to Herschel Island home base for 19th century whalers. On the Dempster highway, stop in at Fort McPherson and marvel at the river views at Tsiigehtchic.

Where Does The Road Take You?

In the Spectacular Northwest Territories, scenic wilderness is everywhere...even just off the highway.

Accessible and breathtaking, our parks – such as Gwich'in Territorial Park – are just steps away from the highway, offering awe-inspiring sights such as the incredible Mackenzie Delta Region. Our parks may be mere minutes from the road, but our waterfalls, trails and full-service campgrounds will leave you with memories that will last forever.
