

WELCOME TO WHERE ADVENTURE BEGINS

The South Slave is a place of big waters, towering waterfalls, big wildlife, wide open spaces and welcoming people.

Welcome to where adventure begins. The South Slave is the gateway to the NWT's wild side.

Here you'll find the southern end of the gleaming Great Slave Lake, Canada's northernmost freshwater fishery and the gushing Slave River, where top-ranked paddlers are drawn to some of the best rapids in the world.

The South Slave is also a land of wilderness, where the North's iconic animals roam free — especially the wandering herds of bison, endangered whooping cranes and revered wolves who all make their home in Wood Buffalo National Park.

Finally, here you'll find big-hearted people, living vibrant lives in beautiful communities ready to welcome visitors.
